

Riders of the Week

November 7 – November 11

Mrs. Radney has chosen Elgin Crawford for Rider of the Week. Elgin's role model is his dad because he is nice to Elgin and he enjoys spending time with him. Elgin wants to be a football player when he grows up because he thinks he will enjoy running the ball into the end zone. For fun, he enjoys playing tag at CES with his classmates. Elgin's teacher says he "always has a smile on his face that is absolutely contagious and is bursting with love for the people around him. He has the ability to play and get along with anyone and he truly cares about being a helpful friend. Even when others may try to bring Elgin down, he is always looking for the positive in everything around him.

Mrs. Sullivan has chosen Alaney Daniels for Rider of the Week. Alaney says that her entire family serves as her role models because they are always there for her no matter what. When Alaney grows up, she wants to become an illustrator because she loves to paint pictures of animals. For fun, she loves to spend her time drawing pictures when she gets home from school. Alaney's teacher says, "Alaney is a gentle and loving soul that always has a smile for everyone that makes them feel good. Alaney is not only gentle with her actions, but with her words as well. She has a genuine love for learning and always give her all every day."
