

Riders of the Week

November 14 - November 18

Celeste Gibson

Celeste Gibson has been chosen for Rider of the Week by Sydney Brookshire. Her favorite movies are Beauty and the Beast and The Little Mermaid, and for fun Celeste likes to read, watch Netflix, and get 9 hours of sleep. Celeste's role models are her parents and her sister because they do so much for her and she admires them for that. Mrs. Brookshire chose Celeste because, "Celeste is a wonderful student. Most teachers know Celeste for being a vivacious reader, which is such a blessing to have in the classroom, but Celeste is so much more. Not only is she smart, but Celeste is kind to everyone and helps both students and teachers in any ways that she can. She is a hard worker and gives 100% to all of her assignments. She brings interesting ideas to The Lariat staff, and her writing is a phenomenal addition to our paper.

I will always admire Celeste for her dedication to our newspaper and the compassion she brings to everything she is interested in."

Jacob Garcia has been chosen for Rider of the Week by Mrs. Corbello. His favorite movie is American Sniper, and for fun he loves to spend time with his family, hang out with his friends, and run cross-country. He adds, "I'm glad that I have a great cross country coach that has pushed us and helped us get go the state cross country meet this year." Because of his dedication to make Jacob a better athlete, Cross Country Coach, Chase Rathke, is his role model. When Jacob grows up he wants to be a chef because he has always loved to help his mother in the kitchen. Mrs. Corbello says, "Jacob has a positive attitude and is willing to try in class. He keeps a smile on his face even when the concepts being taught are challenging."
