

Riders of the Week

January 9 - January 13

Jack Wagner has been chosen for Rider of the Week. His role model is Ms. Lyles, the teacher who chose him for this recognition, because she teaches him a lot of things and lets him explore with special projects. When Jack grows up, he really wants to be a United States Marine because he wishes to defend his country. For fun, he enjoys shooting targets with his dad. Jack's teachers say, "Jack is a hard working student with a kind and helpful attitude! Jack has a wonderful sense of humor and is always trying to make others smile and laugh. He always adds interesting stories and fun to learning, each and every day!"

Emi Kate Wulf has been chosen for Rider of the Week. Her role model is Mrs. Jurecka because she spends time to help her learn. When Emi Kate grows up she really wants to be a doctor because they help people feel better. For fun, she really likes it when they have water games at Field Day. Emi's teachers say, "Emi is always super helpful to others and her sweet disposition is refreshing to be around. Emi Kate works really hard in the classroom and is a great example for others to follow when it comes to being respectful and responsible. Her smile and hugs can't help but turn any situation into a sunshine moment!"
