

Riders of the Week

January 17 - January 20

Tyce Scarber

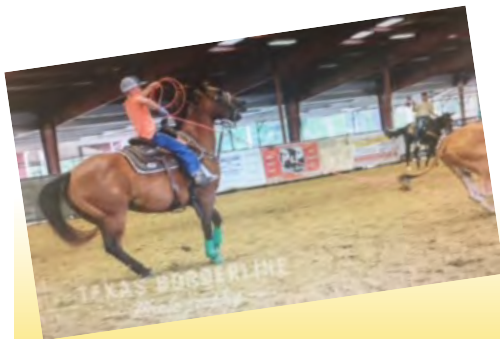

Kritika Patel

Penny Bird has chosen Kritika Patel for Rider of the Week. Kritika's favorite movie is The Descendants. She says she loves Mal because in the movie she changes! Her role model is Kieron Williamson because he painted a beautiful painting and, like him, she also loves to paint. When Kritika grows up, she plans on being an artist because paintings are beautiful when they are done and look very pretty. For fun, she enjoys painting and crafts. Her teacher says, "Kritika Patel is a great student who takes pride in her work. She works extremely hard on class assignments, and I enjoy all the creativity she uses to make her writing unique. One day her classmates may even see her drawings in an art museum."

Penny Bird also chose Tyce Scarber for Rider of the Week. His favorite movie is Diary of a Wimpy Kid because it makes him laugh so hard! His father is his role model because he teaches Tyce how to do a lot of things like roping and saddling his horse. When Tyce grows up, he wants to be a professional roper so he can be really famous and win a lot of money.

For fun, he enjoys playing basketball and football, showing chickens, and riding horses. Tyce was chosen because his teacher says, "he is a student that always tries his best and sets a positive example for his classmates. He is also a friend to everyone in class and is always thinking of others instead of himself. Besides being a leader in class, I hear he's a pretty good cowboy, too!"
