

Riders of the Week

February 20 – February 24

Ms. Bryan has chosen Princy Patel for Rider of the Week. Her role model is her friend Kriticka because she takes the time to play with her and she teaches Princy a lot of stuff about art. Princy wants to be an artist when she grows up because she loves to paint and draw. For fun, she plays Tic-Tac-Toe at her friend's house after school. Princy's teacher says, "Princy is a phenomenal student that is always engaged in class and is always helpful to everyone. Princy is an awesome leader among her peers and is an absolute joy to have in class."

Ms. Jurecka has chosen Jarden Evans for Rider of the Week. His role model is his father because he takes the time to help him with his homework and loves to play games with him. When he grows up, Jarden wants to be a firefighter because he will have the opportunity to put out fires and ride in a big truck. For fun, Jarden likes to play football with his brother when he gets home from school. Jarden's teacher says, "Jarden is nice to others and always gives 100% on everything he does. Jarden sets the example for other students to follow. He has a calm and respectful personality that is refreshing to witness."

Center Elementary School

R³ = Roughriders are Respectful and Responsible