

Riders of the Week

April 24 – April 28

Adrian Hernandez has been chosen for Rider of the Week by Ms. Crouch. His role model is his father because he makes sure that Adrian has food to eat and takes the time to play with him. When he grows up, Adrian wants to be a Fighter Pilot because he can help protect the country. For fun, he loves to play soccer with his dad when he gets home from school. Ms. Crouch, his teacher, says, “Adrian has a quiet personality, but comes to school ready to work and learn every day. Adrian is kind to everyone, showing respect to others, and he uses his manners all the time. He does so much in the classroom and has been an example to others when it comes to self-improvement from hard work.”

Alondra Almaguer has been chosen by Ms. Knebel for Rider of the Week. Her role model is her mother because she makes sure she has food and she loves her. When Alondra grows up, she wants to be a dentist because she wants to help people have awesome teeth that they want to show others. For fun, Alondra loves to play on the monkey bars with her friends at recess. Alondra’s teacher says, “Alondra always has a smile on her face and has a heart of pure gold. She is always trying to help other students or her teacher whenever there is a need. She will put a smile on anyone’s face with her bubbly personality and always does her best on everything!”

Ms. Dutton has chosen Angelica Garcia for Rider of the Week. Her role model is her big sister because she takes the time to advise her on lots of different things that can help her with life. When Angelica grows up, she wants to become a psychiatrist because she thinks it is important to help people when they are sad. For fun, Angelica loves to ride her bike with her sister when she gets home. Her teacher says, “Angelica is a student that never lets me down. I can always depend on her to independently do the right thing and make the right choices! She is a wonderful role model for others and shows every day what hard work can do for you.”
