

Riders of the Week

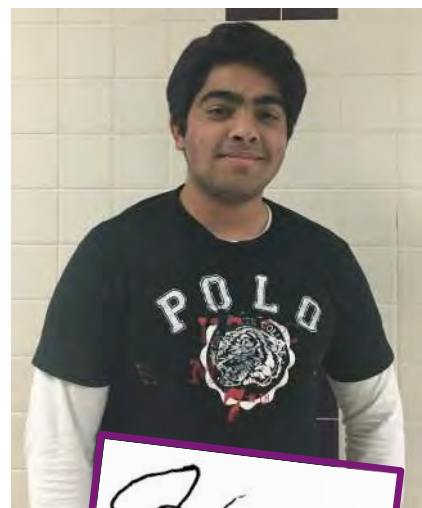

January 4 – January 8

Jacee Hooks

Dan Hodge has chosen Jacee Hooks for Rider of the Week. She loves cheering, texting, hanging out with friends, watching her favorite movie, God's Not Dead, or reading her favorite book, Better Off Friends. Jacee wants to teach at F. L. Moffett when she graduates because she loves kids and enjoys spending time with them and helping them. Her friends are her role models because they show Jacee her true self and let her be unique. Mr. Hodge says, "Jacee is in my 8th period class. I am normally worn out by the end of the day. She comes in smiling and ready to work. Even when she is frustrated, she still smiles ... she is a real pleasure to have in class."

Dan Hodge has also chosen Hamza Quadri for Rider of the Week. Hamza loves to play video games, basketball, watch movies and play with his little brothers. He also enjoys relaxing and taking it easy. Hamza's favorite movie is, Avengers: Age of Ultron. His parents are his role models because they're extremely hard working and always keep him motivated. When Hamza graduates, he hopes to become an orthodontist because he likes working with people and would enjoy helping others out. Mr. Hodge says, "I start first period with Hamza. He is super sharp and always asks great questions that help me think critically about what I am teaching ... this helps students the rest of the day."
