

Riders of the Week

January 25 – January 29

Coach Parker has chosen Marques Hall for Rider of the Week. Marques loves to play sports, sleep, use social media, talk to his family, hang out with friends, and skate. His favorite book is Mike Lupica – True Legend. His role model is Le'Bron James because he does what Marques wants to do: basketball. He is Marques's favorite basketball player, following Kyrie Irving. When Marques grows up, he wants to become a basketball player because he has been playing the game since he was a child and he is very interested in it. Coach Parker says, "Marques is a great student athlete and is an even better role model. He always works hard at everything he does and has a great attitude to go along with it."

Coach Parker has also chosen Jasmine Cooks for Rider of the Week. She loves to play softball, basketball, volleyball, and run track. She also enjoys cheering, tumbling, and watching her favorite movie, War Room, during her free time. Her role model is Lauren Hager because she is an amazing player and a very kind-hearted person. When Jasmine grows up, she would like to be a pediatrician because she loves helping others and taking care of babies. Coach Parker says, "Jasmine is a great student and has an even better personality. She works hard in class everyday and strives for excellence."
