

Riders of the Week

May 8 – May 12

Kayarra Emerson has been chosen for Rider of the Week by Kara Gregory. Her favorite book is Forevermore by Cindy Miles. Her favorite movie is The Spy, The Boss, The Heat, and the Identity Thief. Her parents are her role models because they taught her everything and anything she needs to know. They kept her on the right path. When Kayarra graduates, she wants to go to school to become a NICU Nurse because she loves babies and helping people. She says, “my mom taught me how to raise them and care for them. I want to become a NICU Nurse because I believe babies deserve to have a life to live.” For fun, Kayarra says, “I like to drive my family’s mini bike because of my parents. They have a Harley Davidson and I like riding with my dad. I am going to buy a motorcycle some time in the future because I want to be just like my parents.” Her teacher, Mrs. Gregory, says, “Kayarra is an excellent math student! She listens and always pays attention. She is a sweet soul and a friend to everyone around her. Kayarra always keeps up with her work and always strives for excellence.”

Ms. Butler has chosen Jose Israel Barrueta for Rider of the Week. His favorite movie is Dracula, and he loves drawing and participating in graphic design in his spare time. His mother is his role model because she shows him the right way to go. He says, “she is the best mother that I have because she helps me with my problems in school and she works all night to help her family.” When Israel grows up, he wants to be a mechanic because he enjoys spending his day studying this trade. Ms. Butler says, “Israel is a polite, respectful, and hardworking young man. He is a good student who always completes his assignments. Israel is a good example for other students, and a pleasure to have in class.”
