

Riders of the Week

May 8 – May 12

Payden Fountain has been chosen for Rider of the Week by Ms. Campbell. His role model is his cousin because he takes time to play with him and he took care of him when he was small. Payden really wants to grow up and become a country singer because he wants to hear people cheering for him in the audience. For fun, he loves to ride bikes with his neighbors when he gets home. Payden's teacher says, "Payden is kind to others and to his teacher at all times. He goes out of his way to be helpful and considerate of other students. Being a good role model comes natural to Payden and setting the example for others to follow is something he does every minute of every day."

Ashley Custodio has been chosen for Rider of the Week by Ms. Bartlett. Her mother is her role model because "she takes care of her with love and passion, and always has her back – no matter what happens!" When Ashley grows up, she wants to be an artist because she loves all the colors and enjoys looking at paintings. In her spare time, Ashley loves to draw and play with her brothers. Her teacher says, "Ashley is a hard working young lady that has grown so much this year. She is artistic, creative and a critical thinker. She is a great Rider of the Week because she loves teaching and helping others. She takes the time to explain her thoughts to her classmates and helps with every opportunity she has."

Ms. Shultz has chosen Eh Tha Nay for Rider of the Week. His mother is his role model because she teaches him lots of things and she helps him with his art. Eh Tha Nay wants to grow up and become a businessman so that he can work and make money. For fun, he loves to play soccer with his brothers when he gets home. Eh Tha's teacher says, "Eh Tha Nay comes to school every day ready to give everything he has. He is super dependable and always sets a great example for other students to follow. Polite and honest, Eh Tha Nay is always there to help other students and teachers!"

Center Elementary School

R³ = Roughriders are Respectful and Responsible